LEARN About the International Day of Happiness

On March 20, The International Day of Happiness, millions worldwide will participate in a global movement with activities promoting happiness and wellbeing. Like the United Nations, Proof Positive recognizes happiness as a universal right, which means the autism community—autistic individuals, educators, parents, caregivers, and service providers like you—deserves happiness.

At Proof Positive, we promote the happiness and wellbeing of all people as a partner in disability wellbeing. We know the world’s 70 million autistic people and those who support them may struggle to find happiness, so inclusion in the wellbeing movement and finding happiness is vital to the overall wellbeing of society.
Proof Positive invites you, your classroom, your team, and your family and friends to join us in celebrating the International Day of Happiness. Get started by practicing and teaching happiness in the classroom, in your organization, or at home and spreading happiness to your community on your social channels.

Thanks for being a joy multiplier, advancing the wellbeing revolution, and creating a world where the autism community can access happiness and where wellbeing wins for all.

Champion autism happiness and join Proof Positive’s Autism Wellbeing Alliance to keep the happy vibes going all year long!
WHAT KIND OF HAPPY ARE YOU?

Did you know there’s more to feeling good than just happiness? Let’s start learning and teaching a variety of ways to describe the good feelings and emotions we experience day to day. Research identifies 10 big positive emotions, each with many benefits. Pride, gratitude, joy, love, amusement, inspiration, awe, interest, serenity, and hope are all positive emotions.
Our What Kind of Happy Are You? poster activity and supplemental resources (made accessible for a variety of learners) are a great way to celebrate the International Day of Happiness. Download these free activities to practice and teach happiness today and everyday.
